

Dear Families,

There are many ways to transform both metal and plastic bottle caps into fun art pieces with little effort. Their re-purpose can be a very easy project, and there are plenty of ideas available on the internet. There is a reason to collect bottle caps!

Below are a couple of examples of bottle cap necklaces I recently made. The one on the right is a simple colored pencil drawing, cut into a circle then glued in place. The possibilities are endless so use your imagination and have fun!
